Affiliate Disclosure

In compliance with the FTC guidelines, please assume the following about all links, posts, photos and other material on this website

Many (but not all) of the links on this website are affiliate links of which Collapse Survival Site receives a small commission from sales of certain items, but the price is the same for you either way.

CollapseSurvivalSite.com is a participant in the Amazon Services LLC Associates Program, an affiliate advertising program designed to provide a means for sites to earn advertising fees by linking to Amazon.com and affiliated sites. Pages on this site may include affiliate links to Amazon and its affiliated sites on which the owner of this website will make a referral commission.

What Is An Affiliate Link?

When you click an affiliate link, a special tracking code is used so if you make a purchase, I may make a small commission on the sale of an item. The price of the item is the same for you whether it is an affiliate link or not. Using affiliate links helps me to maintain this website and support my family.

Assume that any link on CollapseSurvivalSite.com is an affiliate link and that I will make a commission if you make a purchase through these links (though the price remains the same for you).

When Do I Use Affiliate Links?

I and the other writers on my team carefully research products before recommending them, and we only link to products we believe are effective and worth the price. In some cases, the products we recommend were either purchased by us or provided by a company in return for an honest review.

At Collapse Survival Site, we do our best to give quality feedback about products, and never recommend products that we would not use ourselves.

Nature Of Affiliate Relationships

Please note that while I personally choose which products to link to, these products are purchased from third party companies and I do not control these companies or have a financial interest other than an affiliate relationship unless otherwise disclosed.

For this reason, I cannot ensure that any item purchased through a link on CollapseSurvivalSite.com is shipped on time, packaged properly, or that you will like it. Any problems or concerns with a specific product purchased through a link on this website should be directed to the company the item was purchased from.
